GRASSY CREEK, Feb. 7 .- Several of our citizens have been very busy for some days getting their logs out of the various tributaries of this creek, as we have just had a nice tide, which was the first tide of the season, and as there is several logs on this creek when they get to market they will bring some money into our neighborhood. It is very much since it set in. So much so that there has been scarcely any farm work done. Farmers are not yet done gathering corn, or a great many of them, at least.

Corn seems to be very plentiful in this locality, and as to rough food there is no scarcity. From this fact live stock looks better than I ever saw it at this season
